

PROCUREMENT & CONTRACT SERVICES PROFESSIONAL

Job Classification

Adopted: April 17, 2005

Revised: July 1, 2009

JOB FAMILY CONCEPT

This family consists of three levels of procurement and contract services professional work. Levels are distinguished based on the complexity of the work, level of supervision required, and the degree of risk exposure to the University. This job family is distinguished from the Procurement & Contract Services Technician job family by applying theory obtained through a course of study, and by having primary responsibility for carrying out large, complex, multi-year procurements of goods and services.

This family provides expertise and guidance in several areas, including:

- Procurement Law
- Procurement Regulations & Procedures
- Contract Law
- Alaska Statute 39.52, State Employee Code of Ethics
- Federal and State Anti-kickback and Ethics in Procurement Acts

In addition, expertise and guidance is also provided to end users in the following areas as they relate to procurement:

- Grants & Contracts
- Risk Management
- Human Resources
- Intellectual Properties

TYPICAL FUNCTIONS

The typical functions listed are typical examples of work performed by positions in this job classification. Not all functions assigned to every position are included, nor is it expected that all positions will be assigned every typical function.

Functions of the Procurement & Contract Services Technician may be performed, but not as the primary focus of the job.

Project Leadership, Management and Communications

- Align staff and resources, set direction and prioritize projects, ensuring that time sensitive projects are completed as necessary in order to meet users' requirements
- Interpret and apply complex procurement rules and regulations
- Analyze and resolve significant procurement problems involving multiple components or conflicting issues
- Educate University staff and the public regarding ethical standards associated with public sector contracting and ensure strict adherence to those standards

Competitive Sealed Bidding, Source Selection and Contract Award

- Analyze and select appropriate method of solicitation and contract type
- Develop specifications, terms, conditions, provisions and source lists
- Develop and apply evaluation factors and standards

PROCUREMENT & CONTRACT SERVICES PROFESSIONAL

Job Classification

Adopted: April 17, 2005

Revised: July 1, 2009

- Develop award criteria commensa2

PROCUREMENT & CONTRACT SERVICES PROFESSIONAL

Job Classification
Adopted: April 17, 2005
Revised: July 1, 2009

Level 1

PCLS: 01421

Alternate PCLS: 09050

Grade 78

Exempt

Descriptors

Work is performed under intermittent supervision, progressing to administrative supervision as incumbent develops proficiency. Research vendors and products. Manage projects that are either large in complexity* OR scope*. Provide day-to-day guidance, training, and direction for staff. Develop accurate specifications, appropriate terms, and conditions, and certify correctness of formal and informal solicitations, including all supporting documentation. Establish positive and productive working relations with vendors and departments while maintaining high ethical standards.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Knowledge of computer systems, programs and applications. Knowledge of a variety of commodities, equipment, supplies, and services and their sources. Knowledge of sound business practices and ethics. Knowledge and command of applicable procurement law, procurement regulations and procedures, as well as relevant court decisions and precedents. Knowledge and understanding of the Uniform Commercial Code, contract law, business law, and a working knowledge of the litigation process, and relevant tort decisions. Knowledge of policies and regulations governing ethical conduct. Working knowledge of risk management and mitigation. Strong phone skills and etiquette. Skilled in providing excellent customer service. Advanced technical and business writing skills. Strong interpersonal and conflict resolution skills required. Problem solving skills. Ability to communicate effectively. Ability to file and track information. Ability to work effectively in a fast paced environment and as part of a team. Ability to assess risk and use appropriate methods of procurement to mitigate risky circumstances. Ability to interpret prices and trends and to apply that knowledge to procurement problems.

Education and Experience

Bachelor's degree in related field and two years public procurement experience, or an equivalent combination of training and experience. A Certified Procurement Manager (C.P.M.) certification or other recognized certification in the procurement profession is preferred.

Level 2

PCLS: 01422

Grade 80

Exempt

Descriptors

Work is performed under administrative supervision. Interpret prices and trends, and apply that information to procurement problems. Manage projects that are moderate in both complexity* AND scope*. Execute mathematical calculations, prepare comprehensive reports, and comprehend written instructions and regulations. Schedule a large volume of work in an efficient manner, and follow through to ensure timely completion of all phases of the procurement process. Chair project meetings, conduct, or participates in, contract negotiations, resolve project issues, advise end users of contractual rights and obligations, and recommend actions to minimize contract risk.

PROCUREMENT & CONTRACT SERVICES PROFESSIONAL

Job Classification
Adopted: April 17, 2005
Revised: July 1, 2009

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Same as level one, plus: Knowledge of federally accepted cost and price analysis techniques. Knowledge of the functions of cognizant representatives of the Office of Naval Research (ONR), the Defense Contract Audit Agency (DCAA), and OMB Circular A-21 cost Principles for Educational Institutions. Ability to be a team or project leader.

Education and Experience

Bachelor's degree in related field and three years public procurement experience, or an equivalent combination of training and experience. Master's degree in a related field preferred. A Certified Procurement Manager (C.P.M.) certification or other recognized certification in the procurement profession, or the ability to obtain certification within one year of employment, may be required.

Level 3

PCLS: 01423

Grade 82
Exempt

Descriptors

Work is performed under general direction. Manage projects that are large in both complexity* AND scope*. Serve as a project manager, and solicit, award and administer subcontracts under federal prime contracts. Conduct contract negotiations. Write price negotiation memorandums and obtain federal agency approvals. Negotiate and administer sub-awards and MOUs under financial grant assistance instruments (federal and private grants and cooperative agreements). Negotiate and administer foreign contracts and agreements by applying applicable international law and understanding of foreign business practices and customs. Advise management and end users of contractual rights and obligations. Resolve disputes, claims and appeals. Prepare documentation and findings to support superiors and the University in the event of litigation. Administer and monitor small business obligations outlined in small business master subcontracting plan. Ensure compliance with securi

PROCUREMENT & CONTRACT SERVICES PROFESSIONAL

Job Classification

Adopted: April 17, 2005

Revised: July 1, 2009